RE: Society of Actuaries in Ireland 50th anniversary

Dear Sheelagh,

On behalf of the International Actuarial Association (IAA), I wish to extend my heartfelt congratulations to the Society of Actuaries in Ireland on its 50th anniversary. We are pleased to celebrate the anniversary of an IAA full member association that has successfully represented the interests of the actuarial profession in Ireland, Europe and internationally.

During its years of existence, the Society has always been a leading advocate of robust actuarial education, professionalism and diversity & inclusion. It continues to be actively involved in our work and has provided valuable insights to our consultations, notably to the IFRS 17 model standards of practice and education note. It is thanks to the commitment of members like Society of Actuaries in Ireland that the IAA continues to play a vital role in the representation and development of the actuarial profession worldwide.

We wish the Society of Actuaries in Ireland a successful path forward in the decades to come, and we hope to be a steady contributor to the Society's future success.

Sincerely,
