

We are pleased to announce the 5th global webinar “Preparing for the Unexpected: Enhancing the Actuarial Toolkit”. These programs provide a variety of content and commentary on topics relevant to actuaries and risk professionals. The global spread aims to shed light on developments and challenges faced by our counterparts in other parts of the world, covering both technical and professional aspects. The webcasts were developed for those working in all industries with an interest in enterprise risk management. They will feature an update on the much talked about risk credential for actuaries, Chartered Enterprise Risk Analyst (CERA), and perspectives from modelers and reinsurers of mega events. Longevity is covered from different angles and Solvency II remains a key agenda item for the insurance industry.

Dec. 7, 2011 – Noon-4:15 p.m. EDT (North American region)

Dec. 8, 2011 – 1:00-5:45 p.m. JST (Asia-Pacific region)

Dec. 9, 2011 – 11:00 a.m.-3:35 p.m. WET (European region)

The Joint Risk Management Section of the Society of Actuaries (SOA), Casualty Actuarial Society (CAS), and Canadian Institute of Actuaries, the AFIR/ERM section of the International Actuarial Association (IAA), the Institute of Actuaries of Japan, Institute and Faculty of Actuaries (UK) and the Institute of Actuaries of Australia, in conjunction with The International Network of Actuarial Risk Managers (INARM), are the hosts. More than 200 sites participate, with an average attendance of four people per site, and 40 countries participating in this global webcast.

Your support of this webcast allows the registration fee to be priced so that actuaries from developing countries may attend.
